Postliberal theology (often called narrative theology) is a Christian theological movement which became popular in the late twentieth century. The movement's proponents argue that the church's use of the Bible should focus on a narrative presentation of the Christian faith as regulative for the development of a coherent systematic theology. Thus Christianity is to be viewed as an overarching ...

CHRIST IN US; CHRIST AS US; CHRIST THROUGH US. The history of Christian theology reveals that there has been far more written about the believer's being "in Christ" than has been written about Christ being present and active in, as, and through the Christian. This is to be expected, in part, because there are far more references in the New Testament to our being "in Christ" than there are to ...
