Router tables are great for cutting your own moldings. Using a router table is easier and faster than using a router alone; you don't have to clamp the board. And narrow boards that are hard to shape with a router are a cinch on a router table. Use feather boards and a push stick to protect your fingers (Photo 1).

learning how to set up and use a table-mounted router. The router undeniably ranks as one of the most versatile woodworking tools. But a router becomes even more capable when it's turned upside down and mounted in a router table. Table-mounting gives you a level of control over the router you just can't get when using it handheld.
