Introduction. The assessment of fungating wounds is an extremely important aspect of care. It should involve a holistic approach and include information on the patient's psychological and social state as well as local wound factors , , . Collier suggests that this may be achieved using a nursing model and recommends Roper, Logan and Tierney's 'Activities of Daily Living'.

Self-awareness is the capacity for introspection and the ability to recognize oneself as an individual separate from the environment and other individuals. It is not to be confused with consciousness in the sense of qualia. While consciousness is being aware of one's environment and body and lifestyle, self-awareness is the recognition of that awareness.
